Robber Flees With $320 In Holdup Of Loan Office

The Letters Pour In

Aroused Citizens Want 'Clean Up' In Government

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Outraged citizens across the United States are pouring telegrams and letters into Washington demanding a cleanup in government. A large number is piling up in the office of Senator J. William Fulbright. The youthful-looking Arkansas Democrat who ramrodded the sensational Reconstruction Finance Corp. probe is demanding a code of ethics be drawn up as a sort of slide rule for measuring the integrity of public officials.

Mr. Fulbright told the Senate last week that the R.F.C. inquiry disclosed a moral problem in which officials abide by the letter of the law—but violate its spirit without any feeling of wrongdoing.

"The values of life which were clear to the Pilgrims," he said, "and the Founding Fathers have become dim and fuzzy in outline."

The time has come, he says, for a new look at what is right and what is wrong.

And many Americans feel the same way. Every mail brings a fresh batch of letters, cheering Mr. Fulbright for his fight for honesty in government and echoing his fear that political corruption is eating away the moral strength of the government. They go like this:

From Weatherford, Tex. — "What has happened to us, Billy? Are we as a people so hungry for money or personal power that we have forgotten every principle of decency our dads taught us? I don't believe it. Surely there are enough good men left to start a cleanup."

From New York City—"It is high time that we gave serious thought to our standards of right and decency which are far too low. Not only in politics but in every corner of American life."

From West Nyack, N. Y. — "Shrewdness and cleverness seem to have been readily accepted as an adequate and desirable substitute for the once respected virtues of intellectual and moral integrity."

From Abilene, Tex.—"Indignation is widespread and growing rapidly and unless Congress orders a housecleaning the voters will at the first opportunity."

Similar messages come from Arkansas, Michigan, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee, California and other states.

Looking at these letters, there is no doubt Mr. Fulbright touched on a subject that is worrying many people when he asked for a commission "to consider the problem of ethical standards of conduct in public affairs".

And like the man from Weatherford, Mr. Fulbright is certain there are "enough good men left" to start a cleanup by pointing the way to a more rigid standard of conduct for public officials.

10 Men Reported For Commission

THE SENATOR chose carefully the names of 10 men whom he would like to see on the commission. He called them "private citizens of outstanding achievement and character, whose integrity is beyond question". Who are these men that Mr. Fulbright would trust with the task of laying down rules of conduct for public officials? What quality do they have in common that caused the senator to choose them?

Here are the 10 on his honor roll of honest men.

Former Supreme Court justice Owen J. Roberts, 75. He gave up his big-money law practice to accept an appointment to the court by President Hoover. For years he held the balance of power on the court—sometimes voting against the New Deal bloc and then with them. Earlier, he had gained a national reputation as one of the prosecutors in the old Teapot Dome oil scandal. In recent years he has been a leader in the movement for a union of Atlantic democracies — a man whose integrity is never questioned.

Former chancellor Robert Hutchins, 52, of the University of Chicago. An intellectual maverick. Mr. Hutchins had the academic world in a tumult when he became president of the university at 30. He shattered the old educational pattern with a system which permitted students to advance as rapidly as they were able to pass examinations. He banned big-time football at Chicago—a move that required a great deal of courage—and he left no doubt he is a man of strong convictions. He has resigned from the university to accept a post with the Ford Foundation.

Paul Hoffman, 59, director of the Ford Foundation Mr Hoffman worked his way up from an automobile salesman to head the Studebaker Corp. Then he gave up his $96,000-a-year job to accept a $20,000-a-year job as head of the giant European recovery program. A friendly man with an air of complete frankness, Mr. Hoffman won the confidence of Congress through his integrity and the high caliber of the men he called around him.

Walter Reuther, 43, president of the giant C.I.O. United Automobile Workers of America. Mr. Reuther quit school at 15 to go to work. He fought his way up through the ranks of labor to lead the U.A.W. Perhaps his hardest fight was his successful move to oust Communist elements from leadership in his union. Once an assassin tried to kill Mr. Reuther with a shotgun blast through the window of his home. His arm was mangled, but he recovered and returned to continue his work. There were rumors—never confirmed—that Mr. Reuther was shot because he tried to stamp out the numbers racket in his union.

Former senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr., 56, of Wisconsin. He followed his fiery father into the Senate and served there for three terms There is a story that Republican leaders gave him relatively unimportant committee posts because he refused to moderate the political views he had shared with his father. He was as determined as his dad to fight for what he believed right.

Chosen Because Of Their Honesty

CHIEF JUDGE LEARNED HAND, 79, of the Second Circuit Court of Appeals. A robust, stocky man with thick eyebrows and sharp voice, Judge Hand has a formidable court appearance. But his friends know him as a shy man. He first attracted national attention when he upheld the Volstead Act at the beginning of prohibition.

Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, 58, professor at Union Theological Seminary. He long has been a controversial figure in the religious world. Dr. Niebuhr in 1941 was one of a group of clergymen who felt that war was less an evil than the tyranny of a dictator. He often is considered radical in his religious views.

Dr. Theodore Greene, 54, professor of philosophy at Yale. He specializes in the philosophy of religion and is widely known in the educational world Mr. Fulbright believes he could give to the commission the professional scholar's views on the historic effect of moral corruption on governments.

Everett Ross Clinchy, 55, president of the Conference of Christians and Jews. For many years he has led a crusade against religious intolerance — fighting for a better understanding between religious groups.

Rev. Wilfrid Parsons, 64, professor at Catholic University. He once served as editor-in-chief of America — a Catholic Review of the Week. Like Dr. Greene, Rev. Parsons is a professional scholar with a wide reputation in his field of work.

Asked why he chose these 10 as the type of men he would like to see on the commission, Mr. Fulbright said:

"I suppose the best word would be—honesty. They're honest men. They have a conscience and they follow it. They are not men who seek merely to please. They are willing to fight for their convictions They have integrity."

But can 10 men formulate a code of ethics which would have any effect in the hard and cynical world of politics?

"We have laws to cover outright bribery, theft and other things that we all know to be dishonest," he said. "But is it bribery when a government official accepts free room and board at a plush hotel from someone who wants something from him? I don't know—but I do know it's wrong."

Mr. Fulbright believes a commission could agree on a code of ethics which—if backed by public indignation—would be a club to force public officials to watch their conduct more closely.

And judging by the mail he is receiving, a lot of Americans feel the same way.

C. Of C. Asks Lausche For Meeting Date

Wants Governor's Help In Shutting Off Chester Bridge Tolls

The Chamber of Commerce, pushing ahead with a fight to take the toll off the East Liverpool-Chester Bridge, was attempting today to line up a meeting with Governor Frank J. Lausche.

The Chamber wants to lay the situation before the governor, inasmuch as he appoints Bridge Commission members, and they are responsible to him.

An invitation to the Chamber to meet with the Bridge Commission in Columbus on Friday was received yesterday.

However, the Chamber held off either accepting or rejecting the invitation until it is learned when the governor will see a local delegation. If the Bridge Commission's invitation can be fitted into the trip to Columbus, it will be accepted.

The Chamber seeks to tell the governor that sufficient money has been collected in tolls to pay the original cost of the bridge, and it ought to be made free in accordance with law.

The Bridge Commission has been putting off the removal of tolls, contending it wants to fix the approach to the bridge before it is set free.

This is the point at which the Chamber and the Commission disagree The Chamber feels the approach is satisfactory as it stands and the tolls should come off immediately.

Meanwhile, City Council threw its weight behind the move to lift the toll.

Members approved a resolution asking Columbiana County's representatives in the General Assembly to work for defeat of House Bill 297, which would permit the State Bridge Commission to continue tolls on the local bridge indefinitely and re-impose charges on spans already freed of debt.

The action was taken on a motion by Councilman Harry Wilson after members listened to a report from Robert H Hays, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and P. J. O'Farrell, secretary.

The two explained the fight the Chamber has been waging against House Bill 297 since first learning of the measure a week ago.

The Chamber contends the bill would prolong the Bridge Commission's life indefinitely, although the intent of the law was that the commission should die when the last state-owned bridge was freed of debt.

Council probably will follow up its informal action last night by enacting a typewritten resolution at its meeting April 16.

Round Table On Tolls Scheduled Over WLIO

The fight to remove tolls from the East Liverpool-Chester Bridge will be discussed during a round table on WLIO tonight at 6:15. Participating will be Robert H. Hays, Chamber of Commerce president who has been a leader in putting the issue before the public; James M. Duffy, president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and Francis H. Lang, member of the Chamber's special committee on the bridge tolls. They will be interviewed by John Taylor, WLIO's manager.

$914,766 Earmarked For City Use

Appropriations For 1951 Are $155,536 Under '50 Expenses

East Liverpool's municipal government expects to spend $914,766 in 1951.

That figure was set in the annual appropriation ordinance approved by City Council Monday night.

Nearly half the expenditure — $406,911—will be for wages and salaries. And the figure doesn't include a scheduled 5 per cent increase for 126 appointive employees that will add $19,310 to the payroll expense.

Council ordered legislation last night to vote the pay raise April 16, making it retroactive to Jan. 1.

The anticipated expenditures for 1951 are $155,536 under the $1,182,358 spent in 1950, including a $112,056 balance at the end of the year in several non-operating funds.

Two bond issues helped swell the city's income by more than $100,000 last year. There was $60,000 for a new furnace and repairs at the Incinerator Plant and $52,000 for two new fire stations.

If everyone contributed equally, operation of the city's government figures out to $38 in 1951 for every man, woman and child in East Liverpool's 24,072 population.

Probably the biggest jump between spending in 1950 and appropriations for 1951 is in the Water Department fund. It's up from $154,960 in 1950 to $179,848 in 1951—a difference of $24,888. Accounting for $10,000 of the boost is a fund allocated for reservoir maintenance. It's to pay for repair of a Henry Ave. standpipe, already under way.

Only $588 was spent for this purpose in 1950. Increased salary allocations account for another $6,000 gain in the appropriation

City Man In Prison May Get Third Trial

Gerald Heckathorne of East Liverpool, whose bid for a third trial was overruled after he was convicted twice by Common Pleas juries of armed robbery and driving a car without the owner's consent, still may get another trial.

His counsel's motion for rehearing of his motion for a new trial has been sustained by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

Heckathorne was taken to the Ohio State Penitentiary Feb. 6 to begin serving 10-to-25 years for armed robbery and 1-to-25 years for driving a car without the owner's consent.

Arrested Sept. 17, 1949, in connection with the Truckers Inn holdup at Wellsville, he built up a $1,750 board-trial-travel bill during the 16 months his case was active.

Resolution Changed In 49-To-43 Vote

G. O. P. Tries To Put Teeth Into Curb On Use Of Troops

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP)—Senate administration leaders pulled their forces together today to try to beat off an attempt by Republicans to put legal teeth into the troops-for-Europe resolution.

Yesterday, by a 49-to-43 vote, the Senate changed the resolution by adding an amendment of Senator McClellan (D) of Arkansas.

The change, bitterly fought by administration leaders, simply put the Senate on record as opposing the transfer to Europe of any more than four U.S. divisions "without further congressional approval".

Thirty-eight Republicans and 11 Democrats voted for the amendment. Eight Republicans and 35 Democrats voted no.

So as the resolution stands it would merely record the Senate as approving President Truman's decision to send the four divisions—about 100,000 men—to join General Dwight D. Eisenhower's western European defense army and would oppose future transfers without further approval from Congress.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, told reporters adoption of the McClellan proposal may have weakened the drive to convert the pending measure into a law instead of an advisory opinion to the President.

He said some senators are satisfied the "moral force" behind the McClellan admonition is strong enough so the President can't ignore it.

On the other hand, one of Mr. Truman's strongest Capitol Hill supporters predicted the President will do whatever he thinks is best for the country regardless of any advice Congress gives him.

Obviously upset by adoption of the McClellan proposal, Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he couldn't forecast what the Senate will do.

Opinion varied as to the effectiveness of the McClellan proposal.

Mr. McClellan himself told reporters he thinks it amounts to notice to the President that before a single new unit of ground forces—beyond the four divisions—is sent to Europe, the President ought to get the approval of Congress.

The form of that approval is not specified any more clearly than it had been in the original resolution, which asked for congressional approval of "any new policy" which involved sending units abroad.

Mr. McClellan contended that everybody had a different interpretation of the committee-approved language.

Mr. Wherry said its adoption was "a great victory for the American people", but he added that he still is against sending the four divisions. He had few supporters in that view.

Senator Taft (R) of Ohio said he couldn't see what the shooting is all about because "we were just putting into the bill something they said was there anyway".

"We have been told all along that the President had to come back to consult with Congress to send any troops beyond the four divisions," he said. "We wanted to get in language that would make it crystal clear."

The McClellan proposal was adopted only after it once had been rejected, 46 to 44.

City Ups Top Fine To $500 For Gamblers

Once-Rejected Plan Enacted To Replace Ordinance Of 1897

Perhaps prodded by Grand Jury recommendations, City Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to an anti-gambling ordinance with a $500 maximum fine that it turned down late in 1950 with a 4-3 vote.

Introduced unheralded, the new ordinance sailed through without debate. It supplements an antedated law enacted in 1897 that provided a maximum fine of $50 for most forms of gambling.

Councilman Bert H. Goodballet took the floor briefly to explain the change in his position, but two others who voted against it a few months ago had nothing to say. The other opponent, John J. McKee—former Third Ward councilman—resigned in January.

"The last time this was up, I believe I was wrong in opposing it," Councilman Goodballet said. "Since then I have talked with enforcement officers and the judge and I have received letters from well-meaning citizens who thought enough of the subject to sign their names."

A moment later, Council President W. A. Southan put the ordinance to a vote. Councilmen Harry Wilson and John W. Paul, who opposed the ordinance previ-

Chester High Addition Set

$200,000 Available For 6-Room Building

The Hancock County Board of Education Monday night authorized its architect to prepare plans and specifications for a six-classroom addition to Chester High School.

However, final decision on the proposed construction must await receipt of bids after July 1 to determine if approximately $200,000 available for the project will cover the cost under current high prices.

The bids cannot be received until after that date because the funds will not be legally available until then. The $200,000 represents the third-year collection of a $600,000 three-year tax levy approved by county voters two years ago.

Superintendent A. L. Rabenstein said the construction would involve some remodeling in the present structure, including installation of a new heating system.

First-year collections of the three-year levy were used to construct an addition at the New Cumberland School and to add four rooms to the Liberty School at Weirton.

Second-year funds are financing construction of a 10-room Jefferson School at Newell and a four-room addition to the Marland Heights School at Weirton.

In other business, the board authorized the purchase of slag for driveways at the Newell Fourth St. School and the Chester Grandview School.

Yanks Cross Into Red Korea On West Front

MacArthur Inspects Forces Within 500 Yards Of Enemy Line

TOKYO, April 3 (AP)—American troops rolled into Red Korea in force today along a 10-mile front in the west.

Field dispatches said the crossing was aggressive but cautious and met only light resistance at the start.

These other highlights paced the war news:

▶Air—American saber jets shot down three Russian-type MIG-15's and damaged three others in a furious battle near the Manchurian border. Other Fifth Air Force planes pounded traffic-jammed Communist supply lines in a day-long attack against the biggest Red troop buildup of the Korean war. The Allied fighters flew 700 sorties, but foul weather choked them off by late afternoon.

▶Eastern front—General Douglas MacArthur jeeped 13 road miles inside North Korea on the east coast. He rode within 500 yards of the main Red line north of Yangyang. There he found South Korean troops digging in, confident and talking only of attack.

▶Central front — American, Greek and Thai (Siamese) troops climaxed two days of heavy fighting by winning a high ridgeline north of Chunchon and one mile south of the 38th Parallel. From the ridge they looked into Red Korean territory where the Communists are massing hundreds of thousands of battle-ready soldiers.

Chinese and North Korean Communists screening the big Red buildup pounded the Allied soldiers with mortar and artillery fire.

Co-operation Asked In Store Building Check

The Cole-Layer-Trumbull Co. started a crew today on a check of commercial buildings in East Liverpool in the county-wide re-appraisal and L. H. Palmer, director, appealed for co-operation of building owners and occupants in expediting the work.

He said it will be necessary to inspect the buildings and ask information, such as rentals, leases, etc., and he asked occupants to assist in every way possible.

The Dayton concern, which was awarded the $120,000 contract for a re-valuation of all real estate and utilities in the county, assigned a crew to the city's residential check two weeks ago and this phase is progressing. It may take over six weeks for the commercial survey.

Police Seek Suspect At Steubenville

Sports-Attired Bandit Locks Up Manager, 3 Girls After Threats

A police search turned to Steubenville today on the trail of a bandit who held up a loan company office on the Diamond five minutes before closing time Monday afternoon, locked up the manager and three women employees and disappeared with $320.

East Liverpool police suspect the gunman may have fled downriver in a taxi after sticking up the second-floor office of the Household Finance Co., 500 Market St., at 4:55 p. m.

Dressed in sports clothes, the gunman entered the office over the New York Restaurant and told Mrs. Pearl Payne of Haywood St. that he wanted to file a loan application.

G. F. BRIGHT
Second time he's held up.

He gave the last name "Trowbridge", which the employee wrote on an application form, then referred him to the office of G. F. Bright of Oakwood Ave., the manager, for an interview.

He menaced the manager with a bandanna-covered right hand that apparently held a gun. While the bandit waited on the customers' side of the counter and gave orders in a loud vice, Mr. Bright removed the money from a cash drawer and handed it over.

The three women employees stood by helplessly. They are Miss Ann Rolley of East Fourth St., Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Wilma Baumgarner of Wellsville.

They recognized the robber as a man who had "cased" the office quickly at noon with an innocent question. He entered and enquired

New Jury Put On Gambling

17 Witnesses Called For First Day Cases

The 15-member April Grand Jury, seated this morning at Lisbon, was advised by Judge Joel H. Sharp, "not to be afraid of gambling because the county will be better off without such profiteering groups".

He recalled a special Grand Jury report on gambling as well as an anonymous letter from East Palestine, listing alleged numbers writers and chief operator there.

Seventeen witnesses are scheduled to appear today before the jury as it opens consideration of six criminal matters, ranging from stabbing to exhibiting gambling devices.

Judge Sharp appointed Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, chairman of the County Republican Women's Committee, as foreman of the jury. Others are:

Erla Emmerling, Mildred E. Copostick and Harry McMahon of East Liverpool; R. L. Huston and Mary Lamping of East Liverpool R. D. 2; Edward Thomas and Oscar H. Lowry of Wellsville; Orvetta Ferguson of Salineville; Robert Beverley of Salineville R. D. 1; Wade Clark of Salineville R. D. 2; Helen Ramsey of Lisbon; Edgar Morris of Leetonia, and Mary Boals and Theda T. McConner of Salem.

Hancock Churches Benefit

Doctor Leaves $160,000 For Cumberland Library

NEW CUMBERLAND, April 3 (Special)—Bequests totaling $295,000, including $160,000 for construction of a community library, were contained in the will of Dr. Charles G. Swaney, a native of New Cumberland who died Dec. 18 in Niles. His will was probated last week in Trumbull county.

Three churches also benefit, including $120,000 for the First Presbyterian Church. A cemetery also receives a bequest.

Dr. Swaney left he community 60 years ago and made his fortune in the steel-fabricating business at Niles after dropping his medical practice.

The will stipulates ground should be broken within three years for the library, with a youth center, on two lots also bequeathed next to the Presbyterian Church on the ridge near the county Courthouse.

It sets aside $40,000 for construction and $20,000 for maintenance of the library, but the figure was boosted by $100,000 by a clause which stipulated residue of the estate should be divided evenly between the church and the library.

The residue amounted to $400,000, but $200,000 will be consumed in federal and state taxes and expenses.

Besides its $100,000 residue share, the First Presbyterian Church specifically was allotted $20,000.

Other bequests included $3,500 to the First Christian Church, $1,500 to the Methodist Church and $10,000 to the New Cumberland Union Cemetery.

The will specified a library board of trustees should be formed by one representative from each of the three churches and the principal of New Cumberland school.

Dr. Swaney's will also left smaller individual bequests to persons in the Niles area.

Both Sides Heard

Health District Merger Opposed By City Council

City Council went on record Monday night against a proposed state law that would consolidate Columbiana County into one general health district.

Members gave unanimous approval to a resolution declaring the change would "in effect abolish the Board of Health of the city of East Liverpool".

"The council . . . is opposed to any measure which will in any manner interfere with or curtail the duties of the City Health Department," the resolution declared.

The action was taken after members listened to strong arguments both pro and con on the measure, known as House Bill 95—its title in the State Legislature.

Dr. Robert M. Dunlap, county health commissioner, argued in favor of the change. "It's absolutely impossible to obtain minimum health services on the divided basis in which we find ourselves now". He referred to the separate city health districts maintained in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salem and East Palestine.

Wilbur E. Brookes, chairman of the City Health Board, declared that a county-wide board would be open to dictation from state and federal governments and it "will result in waste and inefficiency".

"It is not true, as has been published in the paper, that I'm recommending anything to deprive East Liverpool of local health service," Dr. Dunlap told council. "Public health can't be confined in a geographic boundary."

The health commissioner explained his arguments with a three-page printed brochure he distributed to councilmen. It carried a chart showing the organization of a county health pro-

22 Residents Of Idaho Ave. Seek Sewer

Beechwood Request Rejected For Lack Of Sufficient Signatures

A petition by 22 property owners asking installation of a sanitary sewer on Idaho Ave. between Sanford Ave. and King Lane was filed with City Council Monday night.

It was referred to the Engineer's Office for certification of front footage.

Council instructed Clerk Ray Goodman to return to the circulators a petition asking a sanitary sewer on Beechwood St. between Broad and Vernia Sts.

The action was taken after the Engineer's Office certified signatures represented only 47.3 per cent of the abutting property. Council generally insists on a 65 per cent representation before undertaking an improvement to assure collection of special assessments to cover the cost.

Council filed a letter from A. J. Moon of Upper Sandusky, president of the County Engineers Association of Ohio. It said local governments should urge the State Legislature to increase gas tax and auto license fees to provide more funds for street and road improvements.

Councilman Harry Wilson said the Streets Committee has approved a request for abandonment of a 240-foot stretch of Summit Lane near City Hospital to clear the way for an addition.

City Solicitor John B. McDonald said formal steps will have to be taken, including a petition for the abandonment.

A report from the Engineer's Office said approximately $745 would be required to rebuild a curb and sidewalk on West Ninth St. in front of a row of garages owned by Irene Layne.

The owner contends the property was damaged by storm water that flowed over the curb after the level of the street was raised by repaving. The report was referred to the Finance Committee.

The action brought another request from Safety-Service Director Lawrence S. Bloor for legislation that would require the city to make an investigation before issuing building permits.

"The city should protect itself against promiscuous issuance of permits without prior investigation," he said. "The system makes the city liable for many things that it should not assume".

Mr. Bloor also suggested an ordinance specifying a standard for erecting signs outside business places and calling for periodic safety inspections by an "experienced sign constructor".

Ray Bloor, 2401 St. Clair Ave., appeared before council to complain of storm water flowing onto his property from St. Clair Ave. and Maplewood Ave.

Council President W. A. Southan reminded members meetings will be conducted at 8, rather than 7:30. If a caucus is to precede the public session, it will be called for 7:30, Mr. Southan said.

St. Aloysius Church Opens 40-Hour Service

Forty-hour devotions services opened Sunday at 11 a. m. in St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Two visiting priests are taking part.

Rev. Fr. Hugh Bode, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Fatima Parish in Cleveland and a former East Liverpool resident, gave the sermon Monday night. Benediction and confessions followed.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Bardon, pastor of St. Charles Parish at Boardman, will give the sermon at the solemn closing service tonight at 7:30. Procession and benediction will follow.

Two of his ancestors, Whipple and Morris, were signers of the Declaration of Independence. After graduation from Princeton, he started his career by doing sets for the stage.

N.L.R.B. Orders Votes In Building Industry

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP) —Over protests of eight A.F.L. unions, the National Labor Relations Board for the first time has ordered elections in the building industry.

In the past, the board had not asserted jurisdiction over bargaining rights in the scattered industry on grounds that employment was uneven and the industry could be regarded as a collection of individual jobs not affecting interstate commerce.

But the five members said yesterday that Congress, when it passed the Taft-Hartley law, clearly intended to give the board the duty of full jurisdiction over the industry. It ordered local bargaining elections in Baltimore and Olean, N. Y.

Both involve the A.F.L. Plumbers and Steamfitters Union. Eight other A. F. L. building trades unions protested the action will result in a flood of requests for collective bargaining elections.

Appropriation For 1951 Dips

$914,766 For Year Is Drop Of $155,536

for this year, compared with expenses in 1950.

A 25 per cent increase in water rates that took effect Jan. 1 is expected to boost the department's income this year by $37,000 to approximately $191,000.

Oddly enough, salaries of elective officials are one of the smallest items in the city's outlay. They total only $20,694—and that includes the seven councilmen, the mayor, the auditor, the municipal judge and court clerk, the treasurer and the solicitor.

There's a sharp $33,000 drop in funds available for Street Department work in 1951, compared with the amount spent in 1950.

The 1951 appropriation calls for $75,241, against $108,270 spent last year. There is $31,264, including $26,064, available in the street maintenance and repair fund, which is supported by money from auto license sales. And the gasoline tax street repair fund will have $43,977, including $28,573 for wages.

Last year, the city spent $44,546 from the license-supported fund and $63,724 from the fund financed by state gas taxes. The heavy street maintenance expense last year included nearly $20,000 spent clearing away the 33-inch snow of November.

There will be $13,290 more available for garbage and trash collections in 1951. The appropriation calls for $69,500 for the Incinerator Department this year, compared with the $56,210 is spent in 1950.

The added income results from an increase in the voted levy for trash and garbage collections. It was upped at last November's election from 1½ to 2 mills. City officials said the added amount was necessary to continue trash collections.

The effect of growing indebtedness on the city's operating revenue is shown graphically in the new appropriation.

It sets aside $91,788 to pay the principal and interest on municipal bonds that will be retired this year, compared with $82,044 required for that purpose in 1950. The outlay in 1949 was only $72,646.

Since new bonds are being issued for improvements faster than the old indebtedness is retired, the city was required to set aside higher amounts for debt requirements.

Nearly $200,000 in bonds has been issued in the last three years, including the securities to finance the fire stations and the incinerator plant repairs.

Increases in the allowances for the Fire and Police Departments are accounted for mostly in wage raises, as is the case with many other departments.

For instance, the Police Department's payroll jumps from $66,536 in 1950 to $70,219 in 1951 without the addition of a man.

The Fire Department, which gained five new men in mid-1950, will use $86,046 for wages this year, compared with $75,635 in the preceding year.

Council's appropriation includes a $5,000 item for codification of city ordinances. The job calls for arranging all general ordinances according to subject matter, deleting the contradictory and repealed sections and then publishing them in book form.

At present, ordinances are available only in the original copies, filed in loose-leaf style in the council caucus room. There's no way of telling, without a long search, whether an old ordinance has been changed or amended by newer legislation.

Overall allocations for some of the larger departments and offices are: Fire, $94,596, compared with $82,076 spent in 1950; Police, $78,394, against $79,377 spent in 1950, and Health Board, $12,371, compared with $12,125 spent in 1950.

The appropriation shows the city is one of the Ohio Power Co.'s biggest local customers. It will spend $53,500 for electricity next year, including $25,000 for power for the Water Plant, $23,500 for street lighting and $5,000 on a delinquent account for street lighting dating back to pre-World War II days.

There's a $2,000 appropriation for the Civil Defense organization, ear-marked for "salaries and incidentals".

The ordinance allows Thompson Park $6,500 for park and road improvements in 1951, approximately $600 more than was spent in 1950. It also calls for $600 for purchase of a mowing machine.

New equipment specified in the appropriation for the Street and Incinerator Departments already has been delivered, as the city let contracts some time ago. The Street Department gained a new 2-ton truck and the Incinerator Department received two 1½-ton dumps.

The figures indicate council expects a continuing drop in the city's relief case load. There's $61,000 appropriated for poor relief in 1951, a cut of $6,000 from the $67,000 spent in 1950. Relief cost $72,000 in 1949.

Textile Strike Goes On

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 3—Federal labor mediators stood ready today to move into the southern C.I.O. cotton - rayon strike, but there has been no indication from the union or management when negotiations will be resumed.

Bridges Rips U.S.

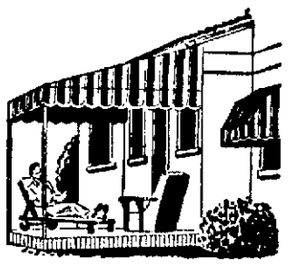

HONOLULU, April 3 — Harry Bridges, Australian-born convicted perjurer, defiantly has charged the United States government is a big threat to world peace. He made his charge Monday at the opening session of his International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union convention.

A Hard Bunch To Beat

THE MEN who had the imagination to envision the East Liverpool-to-Cleveland conveyor belt are a hard bunch to lick in a fight. It must seem to their opponents, the railroads, that they don't know when they're licked.

The bill was supposed to be packed away in mothballs when the rules committee of the Ohio Senate refused to give it the green light for a place on the voting calender. Experienced reporters in the Legislature wrote it off as "dead"—a conclusion they had every right to reach, since the Senate obviously didn't care to stand up and be counted on an issue so sensitive politically as the "rubber railroad".

But here are the bill's sponsors, taking off their coats and going to work in the House of Representatives. They hope to get a hearing on the floor of the lower chamber, and perhaps force the Senate to change its mind.

It's a long shot, but so is the belt itself. It takes men of more than ordinary courage to think up such an enterprise in the first place. That's why it's so hard to convince them they've been licked.

It's too bad there aren't men of equal toughness in the Ohio Senate. Instead, they look in one direction and see the railroad forces, look in the other and see the conveyor belt people—then throw up their hands and run, mumbling apologies that sound childish in grown men.

Friends Of The Horse

SENATOR KEFAUVER says a wire service called Continental Press is the No. 1 public enemy in the United States. This service distributes information to bookie joints. Without the information, betting would be impossible. Without horse-race betting, a prime source of gambling revenue would disappear, and it would be easier to whittle down the gambling bosses.

The question, however, is whether the evil is the service which distributes information about racing, or whether it is in the horse races.

Racing is carried on for the gambling that goes with it. The only "improving of the breed" is for the purpose of keeping the sport on a basis which will make it attractive to people with money to bet.

There are, to be sure, friends of the horse—people interested in nothing but raising fine horses. But no one knows better than they do that horse-racing is an important branch of the gambling industry.

If the idea is to hit the industry, it would cost the taxpaying public a lot less to abolish horse racing than to try to keep information about it out of the hands of gamblers.

The Price Of Resistance

NEARLY three out of every four casualties in the United Nations armies in Korea belong to South Korea, as indicated in a survey of the price of resistance to invasion by North Koreans and Communist Chinese. But of the Korean casualties, approximately 38 per cent are reported missing, which is a proportion that needs further explanation

The United States, with a casualty rate of about 23 per cent, also has a large total of missing troops—close to 19 per cent of its casualty list of 57,120.

Whether or not the missing men are dead, have been captured, or have lost contact with their military organizations is unknown. But even if all of them turn up alive, and on the unwarranted assumption that all the wounded will recover, the price of resistance in Korea has been not less than 25,000 lives.

The United States alone has lost 8,511. South Korea has lost 16,182, with all the other nationalities represented in Korea accounting for the small remainder.

The Korean war is assured of historic distinction as one of the costliest ever fought, in terms of manpower killed and crippled.

Tip From Tulsa

EVER COME to a stop street, look to the right and to the left without seeing another car, then roll through at reduced speed with a guilty conscience? Millions of drivers do it all the time, hoping they won't get caught

Stop signs at intersections where automatic stopping is not necessary is questionable traffic engineering, because it makes motorists do something they do not need to do, thereby making them question the necessity of obeying other, more necessary rules.

Tulsa, Okla., is using a variation of the stop street. It is called the "yield" intersection. Motorists approaching these intersections must yield the right of way if another car is coming. They are so informed by signs. But if there is no car coming, a motorist may roll through the intersection at reduced speed.

This is a common practice among drivers. In Tulsa, it is now a legal practice, with no ill effects noted.

To carry the same load the same distance, trucks require 167 per cent more fuel than railroads, airlines 2,900 per cent more.

Diseases of the heart and arteries are the chief cause of death in the United States.

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

The Case Of The One Ward Bond

ON A RECENT visit to Los Angeles, which is a growing and busy city that includes a suburb called Hollywood, I saw a headline in the trade paper Daily Variety which gave the impression that an actor, Ward Bond, who is a friend of mine, got himself into a quarrel with another actor, Jose Ferrer, whom I do not include among my friends.

According to this peculiar trade paper, Mr. Bond had indicated displeasure over a proposed endorsement of Mr. Ferrer by California teachers that came during the period when Hollywood was gestating with the silly ceremony of passing out "Oscars", which those engaged in producing movies take seriously.

Mr. Bond happens to be a violent anti-Communist and an officer of the Motion Picture Alliance, which is a fine organization of real Americans and should be better known than it is.

As Daily Variety told it, it seems that some reporter for that paper inferred that Mr. Bond threatened to get Mr. Pegler and Mr. Sokolsky to attack the teachers' association if they endorsed Mr. Ferrer. I do not like anyone using my name in vain, but Ward Bond's account of the interview is satisfactory to me. And when I saw Mr. Pegler in Tucson, he appeared not to be displeased at the honor. So we will let it go at that.

NEVERTHELESS and notwithstanding, if any citizen gets into a row over being forced to be tongue-tied or to be silent because some idiotic judge said that to suspect a man of being a Communist and to say so in print is libel per se, let him send his story to me. And if he is correct in his facts and I can check them, I shall be happy to help him out by telling the story.

The time has come to quarrel over the issue that Communists, fellow-travelers, sympathizers of Soviet Russia, New Dealers and Fair Dealers can smear and attack and abuse anyone they like, but no one can answer back lest he face an expensive and burdensome libel suit.

This is a means of intimidation which we shall have to fight in the interest of free speech and the good of the country, even if we have to pass the hat as we did in the McCullough case.

I also saw a piece about Joyce O'Hara, who is subbing for Eric Johnston as president of the Motion Picture Association of America, which he denied the next day.

I do not know and am not called upon to say which of his two statements is the correct one, but he said some things in each which struck me as not too wise.

In the first piece, he is reported to have said that "fanatical anti-Reds in Hollywood constitute a greater menace to the film industry than Communists". That is obviously so dopey a statement that I was not surprised that on the very next day the trade paper reported Mr. O'Hara as saying:

"I made no mention whatsoever of those in Hollywood who are fighting communism. I did say that there are a few extremists outside of Hollwood who were unwilling to give Hollywood credit for the job it has done thus far in waging its fight against Communists."

TO ME the denial is as stupid as the original statement. Any American who is not "fanatical anti-Red" is just a no good bum—to use language to which I may have to become accustomed—and ought to be treated as such.

There can be no halfway, half-hearted anti-Communists. These people are our enemies and their associates are killing our sons. The person who can see both sides of that question is either a fool or he likes a profit better than his country.

Secondly, does Mr. O'Hara take the position that the "extremists" (on this subject) are all outside of Hollywood? Does he mean to tell us that there are no full and unequivocal anti-Communists in Hollywood?

If that is what he means, he is not telling the truth because all of my friends in the motion picture industry—and there are lots of them—are as extreme as I am in their violent opposition to communism.

And I suggest to Mr. O'Hara that he become an extremist on this subject, if he wants to be of service to his employers. It is too late for anyone to be smart alecky about communism.

It's Nothing New

By Elton C. Fay

WASHINGTON GENERAL George Marshall isn't the only defense chief to try for adoption of a universal military training bill or to be astonished over what he calls relaxation in public support for an enduring defense program.

Nor is the 82nd Congress the first to get the issue.

General George Washington and the Continental Congress had the same go-around. Off and on, it has been going around since.

It was General Washington, not General Marshall, who wrote Congress:

"It may be laid down as a primary position, and the basis of our system, that every citizen who enjoys the protection of a free government owes not only a proportion of his property, but even of his personal service to the defense of it. They ought to be regularly mustered and trained and able-bodied young men, between the ages of 18 and 25 drafted to form a corps in every state, to be employed whenever it may become necessary in the service of their country."

General Washington put his ideas about the need for universal military training into a letter to Alexander Hamilton, then chairman of a congressional committee. The general wrote his recommendations against the background of experience in the revolutionary war when he led a valiant but virtually untrained army. In any of the seven years of that war, the largest force committed by the British to the American campaign was 42,000. On the other hand, during the seven years the American forces employed nearly 500,000.

Washington felt this was a compelling argument for military training in peacetime.

But Congress didn't like the universal training idea. Eventually the militia act of 1792 was adopted by Congress, but it wasn't a universal training act. It provided for enrollment of all able-bodied males between 18 and 45, but enforcement was left to the individual states and the citizen-soldier was supposed to arm and equip himself.

The citizen-soldier training idea thereby fell flat on its face, where it has remained until now except for the sporadic periods of national draft when actual war compelled universal training.

Presidents Jefferson and Madison tried to get Congress to go along with a universal military training program, and so did several subsequent presidents, including Woodrow Wilson.

Now, seven wars and 168 years later, General Marshall is presenting substantially the same argument as General Washington.

Long Time No See

By Truman Twill

EVER meet an old friend after a long-time-no-see and realize the occasion is falling flat on its face because of unanswered questions which cannot very well be asked point blank?

For all you know, the fellow may belong to the wrong crowd, so no wisecracks are in order. He may or may not be doing well financially, so money matters had better not be mentioned.

Comments about architecture are out of order, because for all you know he may live in a glassed-in shed. Small talk about hobbies and politics had better be skipped, because he may have violent prejudice.

After half an hour of trying to talk around the uncertainties, it becomes plain there is only one way out of the dilemma, except to break the meeting off short and part in a flurry of inconsequential good wishes. There must be a showdown.

Since this situation is common, why not have a printed sheet of information:

"I am employed by Fringe Benefits Co., which makes fringes. I am in the production end and like my job. I am still married to the same woman I have been married to for the last 25 years. Her name is Susie. She is getting fat.

"Our children's names are Tom and Jerry. They are doing well in school and have no visible infirmities. We live in a six-room house of indeterminate architectural design in a typical six-room house neighborhood. I drive a Taxmobile which is five years old. I think it is a good car.

"My political mind is open at both ends, though I think nonpartisanship is silly. I am inclined, therefore, to line up with one of the two major parties, name furnished on request.

"I appreciate jokes. I play games. I watch television. I have read some good books lately. I like to talk about my work and also like to hear what the other fellow is doing. My infirmities are of a minor nature and I do not insist on describing them.

"I do not hate anyone in public office, nor do I carry a torch for any officeholders, either. I regard public officials as employees, to be rated according to their competency. All members of my family are well. I hope all members of your family are the same."

If everybody could whip out something like this and clear the air in a hurry, meeting old friends after long intervals would be less of a nightmare and more of a pleasure.

Blind, Maybe

It May Sound Crazy, But It's True

By Charles Molony

WASHINGTON A 63-YEAR-OLD lawyer or doctor or farmer earning as much as $25,000 a year can do better, financially, by chucking his career and going to work for somebody else at $3,600 a year.

That may sound crazy, but it's true — assuming our man has made up his mind to quit working and take life easy when he's 65. The government has slacked the cards for it to come out that way, so it's perfectly legal, too.

The reason it comes out that way lies in the income tax law and certain changes in the social security law that took effect Jan. 1 under an act passed by Congress and signed by President Truman last Aug. 28.

Here's the pitch, which we'll develop in detail in a moment.

By taking a $3,600-a-year job as a clerk or something of the sort for 18 months, our man can qualify for a bigger monthly income from the government after retirement than he would get by keeping his "big-pay" job and buying an annuity.

If he's single, the 18 months of clerking will get him $80 a month for life under the government-run old age and survivors' insurance (OASI) program. If he has a wife of his own, they'll get $120 a month together.

He could hardly do as well on an annuity bought out of his savings over an 18-month period as a doctor, lawyer or farmer unless, as a single man, he was earning over $15,000 a year or, as a married man, over $25,000.

NOW LET'S see why that is so. Self-employed lawyers, doctors, farmers (and some others) aren't covered by the social security law, or more particularly the OASI provisions. They don't pay in any of the "taxes" for it and they don't get any benefits, either.

For anyone to become eligible for OASI benefits, he must work in a "covered" job for a certain length of time, the span depending upon his age.

A man or woman under 45 would have to work at least 10 years in a "covered" job to qualify for a benefit upon reaching 65. But people now 62 or older need have such a job for only 18 months.

Eighteen months' work will do for our man, all right, but to make matters simple and precise let's say he and his wife both turned 63 last Jan. 1 and he arranges to start his clerical job next July 1.

That will assure the couple the maximum benefit because he will have worked the 18 months immediately preceding his 65th birthday at $300 a month, which is all he needs to do to assure them the full $120 a month top-size benefit.

During his 18 working months, he will pay a tax of 1½ per cent of his pay for government old-age and survivors' insurance and his employer will match it. Each will pay $4.50 a month on his $300 monthly wage, or $81 each for the entire 18 months.

The first month's benefit checks to his wife and himself will more than make up the cash he paid to qualify for benefits.

Now let's see what our man would have to do to come out as well if he keeps on being a lawyer or doctor or farmer during the period from next July 1 to birthday anniversary number 65 on Jan. 1, 1953.

The first question is how much cash he would have to lay down to get an annuity that would bring a monthly benefit as big as the government offers him.

A GOVERNMENT statistician who has checked it out with private financial institutions says it would cost our man about $11,500 cash to get $80 a month for life if he's single, or about $22,000 to get the $120-a-month deal for himself and wife.

Insurance actuaries or statisticians work it out by taking into account the annuity applicant's additional years of 'life expectancy', the interest the company can earn on sums it holds, its costs of bookkeeping, etc.

To get that much cash together in an 18-month period, he will have to earn a much larger total in this day of high income taxes and high living costs.

To keep everything even, let's say our man (and wife) lives on the approximately $3,000 a year he would have for living expenses—after federal income and OASI taxes — if he took the $3,600-a-year job

To amass $11,500 cash savings in 18 months, our man, if single, would have to be earning at the rate of over $15,600 a year. His federal income tax on $15,000 would be about $4,500. And with living costs $3,600, he would have only $7,500 left for a full year or $11,250 for the 18 months we're talking about.

To amass $22,000 cash savings in 18 months, our man, if married, would have to be earning at the rate of over $25,000 a year. Income tax on $25,000 would take about $7,700 and, with living costs $3,000, he would have only $14,300 left for a full year or $21,450 for the 18 months

They Can't Kill Religion

By Dewitt Mackenzie

NEW YORK JUST OVER a year ago the Soviet Journal of Science and Life launched an all-out propaganda drive against religion and for education of the masses in militant atheism as vital to the spread of Communism.

Reporting on the results of the first 12 months work, Science and Life now calls for an expansion of the crusade as 'very much needed". Apparently the anti-religious campaign is up against a tough proposition.

That is as would be expected. The vast majority of the world's peoples, both civilized and primitives, believe in a god or gods. He is indeed an optimist who thinks that spiritual beliefs which have existed since time began can be killed.

The Soviet drive isn't aimed at any particular religion, but at all of them.

Why should Bolshevism find it necessary to try to destroy religion? Can't this Bolshevist ideology work with religion?

The answer is that the tenets of totalitarian Bolshevism are contrary to the beliefs of every religion on earth. Bolshevism provides for slave states and is employing aggression in the conduct of its world revolution for the spread of Communism.

Bolshevism isn't the first to recognize that totalitarian dictatorship and religion don't mix. Adolph Hitler early saw that if he was to succeed in his devilish ambitions he must first kill off religious opposition.

However, Hitler couldn't kill religion, and the Bolsheviks can't kill it. The Moscow government, taking cognizance of the signs, is favoring persuasion rather than compulsion.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Emil, The Puzzled G. I.

DEAR BABE. I am dizzy again. Me and my buddies have been waiting for months for some word about what the U.N. was doing to help us out over here in Korea and I just get a clipping announcing that it has signed an agreement by which it opens its own post office! The clipping has pictures of top officials signing articles so it can issue postage stamps and handle its own mail. What is the United Nations, our backer in this shindig, doing playing post office?

Maybe it is a good thing for it to have its own postage stamps and post office. Warren Austin, Trygve Lie, Jesse Donaldson and Albert Goldman look very serious at the ceremonies and maybe it will be a big help to bring peace by handling postage stamps a new way.

BUT I didn't know there had been complaints against the old way and I am sure none was sent in the G.I.'s over in Korea. I am not saying I would not favor it if it turns out we can lick the Chinese Reds and get home faster with better post office arrangements in the East River and at Lake Success.

Sergeant Mooney is more puzzled than me. He says he thought the flag we was fighting under was a U.N. flag, but that maybe it is a post office emblem. He says he will go AWOL if it comes up we are battling for stamp collectors and more postal clerks in that new U.N. skyscraper. It sure is tough to be clobbering out here in the muck waiting for more help from all them countries in U.N. and then get word not to worry as it has the post office problem well in hand.

I WISH General MacArthur would issue a statement on this, on account of he is good at it and would not get any kick out of the news. Jesse and Warren and Albert and Trygve can handle stamps more directly, without using no middleman, and that Bertill Renborg, a Swedish U.N. delegate, is now field marshal in charge of new stamps in all colors and sizes.

Well, probably I just don't get the point. I have not been in a position to collect stamps lately and am way out of touch on post office affairs as affecting world peace. I can only hope you will keep sending me your letters the regular way, using whatever stamps come in handy at the time. Do not slow them up because the U.N. did not make them. I love you more and more. And if anybody is even suspected of stealing your affections I hope the Kefauver committee has been notified.

Your loving,
Emil

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

EACH FRENCH taxpayer is paying a quarter of a cent extra for President Auriol's visit here. And that's very reasonable. We probably paid a lot more than that for official visits to Costello.

But Auriol probably is the only politician in history who ever had a vacation financed by taxpayers who were told publicly they were paying for it.

In fact, he told them, which shows an astonishing breed of political courage, possibly unequaled in modern times.

State Health Plan Opposed By Councilmen

Resolution Approved After Explanation By Dunlap And Brookes

gram, explaining so-called "minimum standards" and the personnel needed to staff the office.

It showed the program would concentrate on: Administrative duties, nursing, vital statistics, health education, communicable disease, maternal and child welfare, adult health and hygiene, environmental sanitation and laboratory work.

Dr. Dunlap explained the proposed bill was drafted as a result of a survey made in 1948 by many organizations, including the State Medical Association, Ohio State Grange, Ohio C.I.O., Ohio Farm Bureau, Ohio A.F.L., State Nurses Association, Ohio Hospital Association and the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

"The controversial feature is grouping local health units into units large enough to provide adequate health service," Dr. Dunlap said. "This is not a move toward socialization."

"There will be no loss of local control," he continued. "The law requires the board to give equal representation to all areas it serves."

After Dr. Dunlap answered a series of questions from councilmen, Mr. Brookes took the floor.

"This same thing has been tried on a voluntary basis in other places and it didn't work," he said. "The idea is to get municipalities to pay the health bill for rural areas.

"The balance of power would be in rural areas. East Liverpool would be entitled to only one representative on the County Health Board because the law allows one for 15,000 population. The rural districts on the board would out vote the cities whether you like it or not."

Mr. Brookes continued: "As an example of what would happen, we pay dog taxes to the county now, but we're forced to hire a person locally to do the job of controlling dogs.

"They can't give you a tangible picture of what the consolidated health district would provide," Mr. Brookes added. "They talk about 'minimum standards'. Until they can bring in a definite plan, don't vote for a law you don't understand."

Councilman Bert H. Goodballet asked Dr. Dunlap: "Do you contend that the people here would get adequate service in the consolidated district?"

"I do," the doctor replied. "It's not the fault of the department that basic requirements haven't been met. The way our district is broken up into small units, it's not economically possible to do the job."

Asked what the city's annual share of the consolidated district would be, Dr. Dunlap replied: "I can't tell. It would be $1.50 to $2 per capita for full minimum service. You can't have all the services suddenly; they have to be developed."

Mr. Goodballet replied that would mean the city would spend $35,000 to $50,000 annually for health service, against about $14,000 at present.

The health commissioner replied that only 63 per cent of the county's expenditures for health come from local taxation and fees. The balance comes from federal and state subsidies, he said.

Mr. Goodballet contended that East Liverpool would have only one representative on a County Health Board because it would have only one spokesman on the district advisory council that would appoint the board.

Dr. Dunlap replied that the law requires adequate per capita representation on the board for each community, regardless of the desires of the advisory board. Law would compel impartial selections, he said.

Responding to a question from Councilman John Paul, Dr. Dunlap said that Health Board employees here at present probably would remain on the job and probably more would have to be added.

"If you have a full-time sanitary inspector, it would be foolish to have him working out of Lisbon," he said. He also said that East Liverpool could expect to retain its clinic for treatment of venereal diseases.

After the 30-minute discussion, council enacted the resolution against the measure without further comment. It provides that copies will be sent to State Representatives Clarence Wetzel and Delmar T. O'Hara and State Senator Arthur Blake, who represents the district that includes Columbiana County.

ously, did not explain the change in their votes.

The bill also was supported by Councilmen Albert L. Hall, L. T. Capehart and George W. Hales, who voted for it on its first presentation late last fall. Robert W. Sample, Mr. McKee's successor, cast a favorable vote.

Patterned after the state code, it sets no minimum fine, so the court could make the penalty as low as $1. However, conviction on most offenses carries a maximum fine of $500.

A recommendation for heavier fines was one of the chief findings of the January Grand Jury re-convened in special session at Lisbon in mid-March to investigate gambling.

However, there is no section in the new ordinance aimed specifically at bingo.

The maximum $500 penalty covers "numbers", pools of all types, "gambling tables" like roulette and crap, faro and keno.

"Playing a game for a wager" is punishable by a maximum fine of $25. This is intended to punish customers of joints.

The sections apply to the keeper of a gambling place or the operator of a game. The ordinance also covers the owner of a place where gambling takes place, if the owner has knowledge of the violation.

Horsebooks and bets on fights and athletic contests apparently are covered under archaic wording that refers to bets on "trial or contest of skill, speed or power of endurance of man or beast".

For years, East Liverpool gambling defendants have been assessed the $56 maximum—$50 fine and $6 costs—permitted under the 54-year-old city gambling ordinance.

Authorities explained that fines were collected under the ordinance to retain the money in the city treasury. Fines collected under the more stringent state law go into the Ohio treasury.

Officials To Inspect 2 New Fire Stations

City officials will make a formal inspection of the new East End and Pleasant Heights Fire Stations this afternoon, the last step before the city's acceptance of the buildings.

The delegation will include Mayor Arnold W. Devon, Safety-Service Director Lawrence S. Bloor, Fire Chief Charles Bryan, Robert F. Beatty, architect, and Paul M. Brown, contractor.

The stations, under construction since last summer, were occupied March 15. The contract price was approximately $46,000. In addition the city paid $1,500 each for the two sites—one on Lisbon St. and the other on Pennsylvania Ave. opposite Palissey St.

Council Session Delayed

EAST PALESTINE, April 3—City Council postponed its meeting Monday night because of the Minstrel Association show. It called a special meeting Wednesday night to consider legislation to employ an additional patrolman.

33 Men Sent For Induction

David L. Tice, Donald A. Williams, Oliver Davis, Paul J. Noll, Edwin M. Birch, William H. Hull, George A. Dickey, William W. Blutcher, William G. Billingsley, Herbert C. Duwe, Gordon D. Mann and Robert G. Brown.

Holdup

"Is this the City Loan?" Told it wasn't, he apologized and left. About 28 to 30 years old, the man was dressed in a green jacket, brown trousers and a light green sports shirt.

While Mr. Bright stacked the bills and change on the counter, the bandit kept him covered with the bandanna-covered hand and stuffed the money into his pockets.

A ringing telephone interrupted.

"Tear it off the wall," the robber ordered. Told there were four other extensions on the same line, he repeated the order, so Mr. Bright ripped the phone connection from the wall.

The cash drawer empty, the bandit asked about two safes—a small one used for petty cash and a larger strongbox. Mr. Bright pulled open the unlocked doors and showed him empty drawers.

Then the gunman herded Mr. Bright and the three women into the manager's office and closed the door. Unable to lock it with the night latch, he asked Mr. Bright how it worked.

The manager demonstrated, explaining it could be locked or unlocked from either side. But the gunman, apparently not understanding, locked the door from the outside and fled downstairs from the second floor office.

The office staff got out of the locked room immediately via a side door into an adjoining office. Mr. Bright ran to the adjoining office of the Professional & Mercantile Collection Co. to find if anyone there had seen the fleeing gunman. Told they hadn't, he ran back into the loan company office and telephoned police at 5:01.

"I knew it was a robbery the minute I went into my office and saw him sitting there," Mr. Bright said. "I was held up once before—in July, 1949, at a Youngstown office—and I knew what this fellow was after."

"As soon as I entered, he pulled a red bandanna from under his jacket and at the same time he pulled out something with the other hand and covered it with the handkerchief. I think it was a gun, although I never saw it."

"He said something about 'getting the money', I don't recall exactly what it was. We went into the main office and he stood in front of the counter while I took the money out of the cash drawer and laid it out—everything from pennies to $20 bills.

"The last we heard of him was when he went running downstairs," Mr. Bright said. "No one saw him go onto the street."

It was the second robbery at Household Finance in seven years. Robert E. Smith, a Pittsburgh salesman, stuck up the place for $800 in the late fall of 1944 and escaped briefly.

Confused on the location of his parked car, he wandered into Peach Alley and was taken into custody directly in front of Police Headquarters. He won probation in Common Pleas Court.

Police learned that a man answering the general description of the bandit sat in a bar less than a block from the robbery scene, calmly drinking beer while he waited for a cab to take him to Steubenville.

Paul Gill, 125 Haywood St., a driver for the Veterans Cab Co., gave police an account of the trip. He said that he became suspicious of his passenger because of the "nervous" and "worried" way he acted on the drive to Steubenville.

Answering a call at 5:15 for a cab, Mr. Gill said he went to the City Bar in Diamond Alley and picked up the unidentified man and a woman companion, aged about 32.

He said he noted his passenger was "very worried", particularly when the cab passed a State Highway Patrol car near Toronto. There was one discrepancy—the loan office staff said the bandit wore a felt hat. Mr. Gill said his passenger had on a striped cap, the type worn by railroaders. He noticed the man wore a green jacket, but did not note the rest of his clothing.

Mr. Gill said as the cab entered Steubenville he heard the man counting a big handful of change. He peeled off two $5's for the fare and told the driver to keep the $1 change. Mr. Gill discharged the passengers on Market St. He said the man and woman appeared to be newly acquainted.

Newell Motorist And Passenger Fined

A Newell autoist and his passenger were fined at hearings this morning before Mayor DeMar Miller of Chester on charges of driving while intoxicated and intoxication.

Clyde J. Hissam of Grant St. pleaded guilty to the drunken driving charge and was fined $50 and costs and his operator's permit was revoked for six months.

Gay Hill, who gave the same Newell address, was fined $20 for intoxication and cursing an officer.

Both pleaded guilty and received suspended 30-day jail terms on payment of the fines.

They were cited Monday night on Carolina Ave. by Police Chief Floyd Lyons and Patrolman Harold Davis.

Beer Thieves Make Haul Of 34 Cases

Duquesne Distributors of West Eighth St. told police Monday afternoon week-end burglars carried away 34 cases of beer worth $113 and two clocks valued at $50.

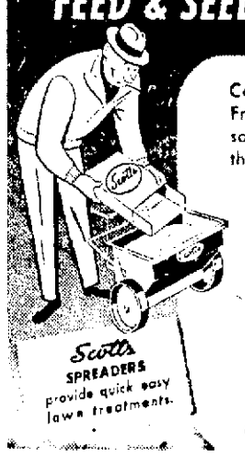

The company said loss of the canned beer was not detected until afternoon, although the breaking and entering had been noticed earlier. The intruder also took 35 to 40 cents in change and some stamps, the company said.

The wholesale firm is located in the old West End Pottery building. Entrance was gained by knocking down a board partition from the unoccupied floor above.

Truck Hits Pole

A parked truck owned by the Youngstown Creamery Co. slipped its brakes today at 9:16 a. m. on Avondale St. and knocked down a utility pole, then hit the corner of a house at Avondale and Minerva Sts. owned by O. H. Williams, police said. The driver, Peter P. Gura, was in a nearby grocery.

These Folks Once Suffered, Too!

Don Pablo suffered from annoying pains.

Guy H. Housley suffered stomach distress.

Wayne Catrett was run-down, had no appetite.

HADACOL Relieves The Cause Of Stomach Distress, Aches and Pains, Weak, Run-Down Conditions and Nervousness When Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Can Help People With Such Deficiencies?

Don Pablo, famous orchestra leader, 15319 Vaughan, Detroit 23, Mich.: "Since I broke my wrist I had been suffering with pains, especially when the weather changed, and it seemed that nothing would alleviate it until recently I tried HADACOL, and I was amazed by the results. Now I always keep a bottle to replace the empty. 'Being a bandleader and pianist where my wrist is essentially used, I am very grateful to HADACOL. Now I can bring to the public the music they enjoy and I enjoy playing it myself."

Guy H. Housley, 641 14th St., San Diego, Calif.: "I am 40 years of age and have had a nervous stomach condition for quite some time. Couldn't eat hardly anything. Back in my home town, I bought a bottle of HADACOL and before the first bottle was gone,

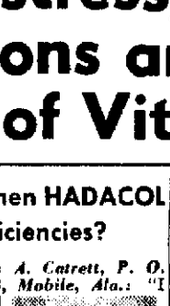

I could tell a difference. Then I came to San Diego and couldn't get it here. I sent back to Atlanta for it. Now, thank God, they have it on the market here and I have a supply in my house. Not only that, but I'm telling all my friends what HADACOL has done for me. I sleep well, eat anything I can get and feel wonderful. I could go on and on praising HADACOL, it's done so much for me."

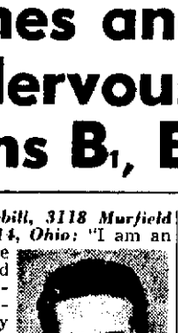

Mrs. Douglas A. Catrett, P. O. Box 384, Rt. 3, Mobile, Ala.: "I have a good word to say about HADACOL for it certainly seems a miracle to me. My son, Wayne, who is eight years old, was considerably underweight—in fact, he wore a size four shirt. Someone suggested that I give him HADACOL. After taking four large bottles Wayne is no longer underweight. Now he gets up early and he has a good appetite . . . he eats lettuce, cabbage, carrots and greens. He hasn't missed a day from school. Thanks to HADACOL."

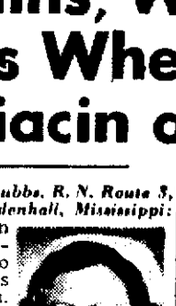

Anselmo Palacios, 911 Hardy St., Houston, Texas: "I had suffered from a bad cold. I did get over my cold, but it left me in a poor, weakened condition. I lacked energy, had no appetite, and felt generally run-down. I read about HADACOL and decided to try it to see if it would help build me up like it had so many other people. A friend of mine presented me with a bottle and I began to take it. Very soon I noticed an improvement in the way I felt. I began to eat better and regain my energy and strength. I continued taking HADACOL and soon felt fine. I am still taking HADACOL and am going to continue taking it for I believe that by continuous use of this wonderful HADACOL that I will keep on feeling fine. I not only take HADACOL—my family takes it, too. We cannot praise it enough."

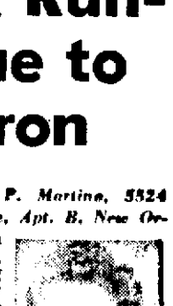

Richard Krabill, 3118 Murfield Road, Toledo 14, Ohio: "I am an apprentice pharmacist and I go to the University of Toledo. My daily schedule is very rigid. Going to school full time and working after school until 9:30 gets pretty tiresome. I was getting tired and run-down keeping pace with all I had to do. Being married and having a family, I am compelled to work after school. I work in a pharmacy here in Toledo. After selling HADACOL here in the store I decided I'd try it. You have no idea how much it has picked me up. I'm telling you truthfully, HADACOL is the answer to all my tiredness from sitting up late at night doing homework after I come home from work. I'm doing my best to recommend HADACOL to the customers I wait on here in the store who complain of circumstances that equal mine. Already I have won customers on HADACOL in the short time I have been taking it."

Mrs. L. A. Stubbs, R. N. Route 5, Box 204, Mendenhall, Mississippi: "I have been giving HADACOL to my two children, ages five and seven. They did not eat as they should. Since giving them HADACOL they feel better and eat more than they have in a long time."

Mrs. Frank P. Martino, 5824 Wickfield Drive, Apt. B, New Orleans, La.: "I am a housewife, age 27, taking care of my baby who is 3½ years old. I wasn't able to take care of my baby and do my work at the same time. I was always feeling run-down and very nervous until I tried taking HADACOL. Well, believe me, I have only been taking it for two and a half months and have experienced a wonderful change for the better. I don't feel nervous or run-down any more. I feel and eat a lot better. Thanks to HADACOL."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LeBLANC, Whose Tireless Efforts For Relief Of Suffering Have Brought Humanity Today's Great HADACOL

Senator LeBlanc in all of his political activities has always championed the cause of the oppressed, and the poor and underprivileged.

He was the first candidate for Governor to advocate a specific Old Age Pension . . . and today in Louisiana, he is known as the Father of the Old Age Pension. In the course of his long, lone fight he has had his critics, but to those who opposed him he has continually stated, "If you do not believe in Old Age Pensions, remember the mandate of the Lord Himself—'Honor thy Father and thy Mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.'"

Senator LeBlanc is known as a friend of the veterans. He introduced and successfully passed the law that created the State Service Commissioner whose duty it is to see that every service man receives his just compensation from both State and Federal governments. His activities in public life in behalf of the working man are too numerous to mention here.

It was only natural that in his sincere desire to serve the people, that Senator LeBlanc would seek and find a product that would tend to assist the poor and ailing, that would help them lead a more happy and contented life. His tireless study and effort resulted in today's wonderful HADACOL.

Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc

Why Wait?

Why experiment, why give up, why suffer from a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin? Why not make up your mind to start taking HADACOL today with the positive assurance that it will help you if you suffer such deficiencies or the Senator will gladly send back your money. You have to be satisfied, and since Senator LeBlanc has proven by his past activities that he is your friend, you know you can depend on what he says and what he does. Ask for HADACOL now. Trial size, $1.25; large family economy size, $3.50.

Pay Measure At Lisbon Hit By Deadlock

$166,481 Provided In '51 Appropriation Approved By Council

LISBON, April 3 (Special)—Village Council killed a pay increase for police and street workers Monday night, deadlocking on an ordinance which received first reading March 13.

The ordinance would have raised Chief Dalton E. Pike and four patrolmen a $15 a month to $275 and $265, respectively. It would have hiked the street commissioner to $250, labor foreman to $200, labor to $1 an hour, Water Works engineer to $260, Water Works assistant to $235, second assistant to $225 and the Board of Public Affairs clerk to $170.

Councilmen Wilbur Warren, Robert Cameron and Charles Lederle opposed the measure. Approving it were Councilmen James Roush, A. G. Smith and Homer McPherson. Next step for the legislation is uncertain.

An appropriation ordinance for $166,481 was passed.

It contains $66,158 in special funds over which council has no control, including cemetery fund, $21,644; Water Works, $33,280; cemetery endowment, $4,483, Water Works bonds, $6,338; John Clark trust, $56.33, James Costello endowment, $62.50, and mausoleum endowment, $293.48.

In other business, council passed a parking ordinance under suspension of rules, awarded a contract for the blacktopping of two streets, and approved a resolution to use fluoride in the village water supply.

One hour parking is provided on the West Side of North Beaver St. from Lincoln Way to Chestnut St., and a two-hour limit on the north side of Chestnut St. from Bradbury Alley to Market St.

The contract for resurfacing of South Market St. and Park Ave around the Public Square was let to the City Asphalt & Paving Co. of Youngstown for $5,440.15. The only other bid was for $6,498.05 from McCartney & Sampsell, Inc., of Youngstown.

Council approved a resolution presented by Water Works Commissioner Ralph Rogers, and Ralph Rose and Frank Henry of the Board of Public Affairs for the fluoridation of water.

They said village dentists and doctors and the County Health Department have approved the practice, which is supposed to retard tooth decay.

The practice will be adopted locally on approval of the State Department of Health.

William Ashton, president of the School Board, asked council's help in financing the playground at the stadium this summer. The matter will be considered at the next meeting.

The Park Committee reported a poll shows the public is not in favor of the drinking fountain proposed for the Public Square. The Street Committee said that a parking lot on the former county jail site is impracticable because of expenses for a retaining wall and grading.

Girls of Scout Troop 4 of the Presbyterian Church attended as part of their work for citizenship badges.

Substitute For Brokaw

Joseph Cooper Named Acting Municipal Judge

Attorney Joseph W. C. Cooper was named acting municipal judge today to serve during the illness of Judge George L. Brokaw.

Mayor Arnold W. Devon made the appointment shortly before noon at the request of Judge Brokaw. The judge, bothered several weeks with recurring attacks of flu, was taken ill again Monday and forced to remain at home. Attorney Cooper, a member of the firm of Kapp & Cooper, is a candidate for city solicitor in the May primaries.

Mayor Devon said Mr. Cooper will be sworn into the temporary job this afternoon in the court chambers, probably by Clerk Harold L. Powell.

Two police court cases were postponed today because of the judge's absence—two drivers each charged with a pair of offenses.

Lester Gamble, 47, of R. D. 1 is awaiting a hearing on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and resisting arrest. He was taken into custody at 1:15 this morning on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolmen Mike Winters Jr. and Lincoln Varian, police said.

Ray Kidder, 904 Kent St, faces charges of driving without an operator's license and crashing a traffic light. He was cited at 12:50 a. m. today at East Fourth and Washingon Sts. by Patrolman Winters, officers reported.

H. W. Hammond Elected President Of County's Bar

Homer L. Hammond of Columbiana was elected president of the Columbiana County Bar Association Monday, succeeding South Metzger of Salem, at the annual meeting at Lisbon.

Mr. Hammond, former vice-president, was chosen at voting in Courtroom No. 1 following a dinner at the Pythian Sisters Hall.

Donald D. Shay of East Liverpool was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Ralph Atkinson of Salem and Jay Clark of East Liverpool were named to the executive committee.

Two new members were received—Richard H. Kennedy of Lisbon, who is associated with Riddle & Riddle, and Richard J. Clark of East Liverpool, a member of Clark, Steele & Clark, and the third generation in the Clark family to follow law.

Blankenship To Erect Building On Walnut St.

Construction of a two-story office and apartment building on Walnut St. will start by April 15, Otis Blankenship, insurance agent, announced today.

Mr. Blankenship said the two-story brick estimated to cost $15,000 will be located opposite the Bus Terminal on the site of the Schultz home.

His insurance agency will occupy the first floor of the 33-by-40-foot structure with apartments on the second floor.

Paul Brown of East Liverpool is the contractor.

Chicago Mayor Vote Watched For Trends

CHICAGO, April 3 (AP) — Chicago elected a mayor today in an election that was watched widely for trends that may have a bearing on next year's presidential ballot.

The Democrats, in control of the mayor's office since 1931 look for Mayor Martin H. Kennelly to win re-election to a four-year term.

Robert L. Hunter, 52-year-old lawyer making his first bid for a major political office is the Republican nominee.

Ministers O.K. Union Services

Radio Committee Is Set By Association

The East Liverpool Ministerial Association, meeting Monday morning in the Y. M. C. A., approved plans for a series of union services on Sunday nights from July 1 to Sept. 2.

The services will be held in front of the Calvary Methodist Church on Jackson St. A committee consisting of Rev. Frederick T. Gillette, Rev. W. A. Hewitt, Rev. William L. Brown and Rabbi Albert L. Raab was appointed to arrange the series.

The association also heard John Taylor, manager of WLIO, who discussed plans for continuance of the Sunday morning church broadcasts and the daily devotions sponsored by the ministers.

A new radio committee, consisting of Rev. Brown, Rev. Hewitt and Rev. Albert H. McLain, was appointed to work with station officials.

R. W. Betts, High School principal, explained the policy of school authorities in avoiding conflicts with school events upon nights of church services. A vote of thanks was extended school authorities for their co-operation.

The devotions were conducted by Rev. Oakey W. Grow of the Second Christian Church. Rev. Wilbert Wilson of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, president, presided. Twenty-two members were present.

Officers Selected For Brotherhood

John W. Evans was elected president of the Calvary Methodist Brotherhood, an organization of men, at a meeting Monday night in the church.

Other officers included Paul Grafton, vice-president; Wilford Padgett, recording secretary; Harold Putt, corresponding secretary, and Harvey Cottrill, treasurer. The organization will meet on the first Monday each month.

More than 100 men of the church attended the meeting, at which Merrill Hall, head High School basketball coach, was speaker. A quartet made up of Don Glenn, Bon Emmons, William Hutchman and Rex Dingey, High School choir members, sang. The devotions were conducted by Rev. Paul C. Bailey of the Boyce Methodist Church, the Scriptures were read and a prayer given by Rev. Albert Oakes and the benediction by Rabbi A. Stanley Dreyfuss of the B'Nai Israel Temple. Lunch was served.

Highlandtown Grange Will Give Play Tonight

12 More Games On Tap Tonight In Tri-State Tournament

No Upsets Recorded In Opening Session

BY BYRON R EELLS Review Staff Writer

Twelve more games are on tap tonight at Memorial Auditorium as the 26th annual Tri-State Tournament continues to separate the wheat from the chaff

No upsets were recorded Monday night in the opening session of the six-day event as 12 teams were eliminated reducing the field to 50

Several pre-tournament favorites are scheduled to make their bows tonight headed by the defending champion Columbiana County Finance

Others are Harker's Royal Gadroons (Mt Union College), P and S (Westminster College) First Presbyterians of Canton and the Marine Corps league (Duquesne freshmen) All are favored to advance

Three close games featured last night's play The Third Streeters composed of high school students edged Caurich Market of Midland 25-22, in an overtime only to lose another thriller 24-28, to the Youngwood Ravens in the night's finale

National Furniture (Geneva College) sneaked past May's Service of Columbiana 32-31

Eddie Oliver was the hero of the Third Streeters' win over the Midland five He bagged a foul in the closing seconds to force the game into an overtime and then hit on a fielder and foul in the extra period

The Third Streeters built up a 16-6 lead over the Ravens only to blow it in the third quarter and finally lose out 28-24

The most evenly fought game of the night saw May's Service come from far behind to lose out in the last 15 seconds on a missed foul shot

The Columbiana team trailed 6-0 at the end of the first quarter and by nine points at the half They battled back to within three points and then had the fans on the edge of their seats in the hectic fourth quarter

It was awarded two free throws with seconds to play and made the first but missed the second

The comedy relief was provided by several teams, but the fans got the biggest kick out of the Smith for Solicitor's 25-18 win over the Warriors

The winners comprised of former Potter stars were headed by Jim Mackey's eight points and Porter Mackey's passing and ball hawking

Chuck Kennedy Nash composed of several stars of this year's East Liverpool High team and W-J freshmen rolled to an easy 46-16 win over the Kaycees after a close first half

Other results saw Sandy's whip Cooper's Insurance, 36-23 in the opener, the Kaycees down the Hoboes 30-24 Magill Grocery down Gerace Grocery, 16-10 Edwin M Knowles run up the highest score of the night to trounce Vi-Jon's, 53-6

Milliron's edged Sandy's 20-16 Kaul Clay Co of Steubenville walloped Magill's 45-16 and Wilson's Super Market of Wellsville whipped Knowles,30-17

Mellott of Knowles took game and night scoring honors He bagged 24 against Vi-Jon's for the single high and added four against Wilson's Market

Masters Golf Tourney Nears

AUGUSTA Ga April 3 (AP)—The 15th Masters Golf Tournament starts Thursday with emotions well mixed on just who has the best chance of winning

An amateur this year, maybe," says defending champion Jimmy Demaret, the only three times Masters winner I'm not kidding either I think this is the best overall field we ever had at a Masters and I've played in nine of them

'The reason I think this is the strength of the amateurs This could be an amateur's year '

An amateur never has won on the Augusta National course which winds for 6900 yards among the hills and pines of eastern Georgia

The Walker Cup team is expected in full by Thursday's opening round In addition there's heavy sprinkling of other excellent amateurs Walker Cuppers and alternates are Willie Turnesa Bill Campbell, Dick Chapman Charles Coe Bobby Knowles Jim McHale Harold Paddock, Frank Stranahan Sam Urzetta, Billy Goodloe, Alfred A Mengert Don Finsterwald and Frank Hoelscher

The closest any amateur ever came to winning was in 1947 when Stranahan finished in a tie with Byron Nelson for second place with 283's That was the year Demaret won his second title with 281 strokes

Canton Coach Resigns

CANTON O April 3 (AP)—John Fife 42 head football coach at Lincoln High School the last three seasons resigned last night His best season at Lincoln was last year when his team won three and lost six Deer Of Either Sex To Be Legal Game In W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W Va, April 3 (AP)—Deer of either sex, regardless of age, will be legal game during the state's 1951 deer season starting Dec 3

Dates, bag limits and other details of seasons on deer and other game were announced by the conservation commission following its quarterly meeting yesterday

Hunters in past years have been permitted to kill only bucks with one or both antlers branched

The legislature this year removed spiked bucks from the protected list, but the commission retained authority to regulate taking of does

The commission decided to allow taking of deer of either sex on recommendations made by its technicians in the face of growing deer herds The bag limit remains at one deer per hunter for the season

The open season will extend through Dec 5 in one group of 14 counties but will be limited to the opening day in 13 others

The Dec 3-5 season applies except on controlled shooting areas in all of Grant, Hampshire Hardy Mineral, Morgan, Pendleton, Pocohontas, Preston, Randolph Tucker, and Webster counties, the section of Berkeley west of U S Route 11, the watershed of Cherry River and the area bounded by U S 60, U S 219 and the county line in Greenbrier county, and the part of Monongalia county east of the Monongahela River

Except for controlled shooting areas, the one-day season Dec 3 applies in the following

All of Barbour Braxton Doddridge Hancock Harrison, Lewis, Marion, Nicholas Taylor, Tyler and Upshur counties the section of Monongalia west of the Monongahela River and to the south and east of state Routes 7 and 218, the area of Wetzel county south of state Route 7

Hogan Identifies Cager Sought In 1949 'Fix'

NEW YORK, April 3 (AP)—District Attorney Frank S Hogan has identified one of four men south in the current collegiate basketball scandal as William Rivlin, convicted of a 1949 cage fix '

The other three were not identified

Rivlin was sentenced to a year in jail in 1949 for a vain attempt to fix a Madison Square Garden game between George Washington University and Manhattan College

Fundamentals, Offense Need Polishing, Bengal Coach Says

"We need a lot of work on fundamentals and on our offense" Coach Charles Chuck Sell said today as his Wellsville Bengals headed into their second week of Spring training

Coach Sell starting his second campaign as mentor of the Bengals, made the statement after sending his gridders through a bruising scrimmage with the Steubenville Big Red

The youthful coach said he was impressed with his boys even though the Big Red line outweighed them considerably He said several of his linemen looked good

One of our big problems will be finding an end to receive the passes of Quarterback Bob Mundy, Coach Sell said Mundy, a lefthander passer, helped the Bengals to notch four victories last season with his passing Last season, Mundy had two good receivers in Kenneth Brophy and Ronald Green Both graduate this spring along with sub ends Don Ryan and Ray Flynn

Coach Sell said he may line up another scrimmage game this week end The Bengals will travel to Massillon April 14 to scrimmage the Tiger reserves

Butler Cubs Enter Junior Cage Classic

The Butler Cubs are the newest addition to the list of entries in the fourth annual Junior Basketball Tournament scheduled next week at the Broadway gym and the Memorial Auditorium

Along with the Cubs four other squads have entered the tourney according to Robert Curran and Jack Vanaman, tourney directors The week-long affair is being sponsored by the Blue & White Nonpareil Club

Other teams entered include Salem Concrete composed of some of Salem High School's varsity from this past season Minerva Lions, Steubenville Y M C A and the Bell-Fan Bar quintet of Youngstown This team is a mixture of the best high school stars from several Youngstown schools

The Butler entry includes the seniors from the Butler High School team which won 17 of 20 games, plus the addition of Jay Butler 6-foot-5 center from Freeport High School They recently won the junior tournament at Butler In seven games playing under the Cub banner the team has lost one tilt and has averaged 69 points per game

Mr Curran reminded local players the entry deadline is midnight Saturday The tourney is open to any player not yet graduated from high school

The trophies and medals over 45 to be presented are on display at Gething's Men's store Conn's Barbers of Wellsville won the event last year

The group adopted the name Western West Virginia Basketball Conference' Albert (Babe) Mazza, head coach at Ceredo-Kenova High School was elected president

The nine definite members of the conference are Logan, Huntington East Barboursville Ceredo-Kenova, Milton Wayne Point Pleasant Guyan Valley and Huntington St Joseph's

Williamson was not represented at the meeting but has expressed interest in joining It will be admitted if it wishes

Although organized as a basketball conference, the league may later expand to include other sports

Rookie Hurler Clinches Berth With Yankees

By The Associated Press

Tom Morgan sensational 20-year-old righthander from El Monte, Calif, apparently has clinched a starting berth with the world champion New York Yankees

The youngster has pitched 25 innings against major league opposition and has yet to yield an earned run

Yesterday, Morgan pitched the first six innings against Cleveland at Phoenix, Ariz, in a game the Yanks won 4-2 on Joe Collins' home run in the 11th inning Morgan drove in the Yanks first pair of runs with a home run off Bob Chakales, a foe in the Eastern League last year

Morgan's string of consecutive scoreless innings was snapped at 22 when the Indians scored an unearned run in the fourth The second Cleveland marker in the sixth also was tainted Former Indian Bob Muncrief, who pitched the last five innings was credited with the victory and Steve Gromek was charged with the loss

Excellent pitching by righthanders Gerry Staley and Cloyd Boyer enabled the St Louis Cardinals to shade the Boston Red Sox 2-0 at St Petersburg Fla Staley and Boyer limited the Sox to six hits

The Washington Senators defeated their Chattanooga Southern Association farm hands, 5-3, at Winter Garden Fla Sam Mele socked a three-run homer in the first inning and the Nats were never headed

The National League champion Philadelphia Phils beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-7, on the wings of a bases loaded triple by Willie Jones in the ninth

The Chicago White Sox had no trouble polishing off Austin of the Big State League 13-1, but the hapless St Louis Browns dropped another this one to San Antonio of the Texas League, 7-3

Frank Leahy, head football coach at Notre Dame for eight years, has a record at South Bend of 64 wins, seven defeats and six ties

Stirnweiss Will Aid Tribe, Yanks Claim

TUCSON Ariz April 3 (AP)—To hear the New York Yankees talk George Stirnweiss their second baseman for seven seasons is going to be a big help to the Cleveland Indians

Stirnweiss and Shortstop Merrill Combs whom the Tribe obtains Sunday from the St Louis Browns are to join the Cleveland club in Houston Tex Thursday first stop on the barnstorming tour eastward

At Phoenix yesterday where the Yanks won an 11-inning game from Cleveland 4-2 on Joe Collins homer the New Yorkers praised Stirnweiss generously

He may help 'em (Cleveland) too much to suit me Manager Casey Stengel growled

I learned a lot from Stirnweiss He's always willing to help and makes a good instructor Second Baseman Gerry Coleman said

And Coach Tommy Henrich an authority on team play calls Stirnweiss a good man Henrich added that when he saw Stirnweiss with the Browns last week he looked in better shape than he did in the last two years Henrich and Stirnweiss are partners in a New Jersey beer business

After today's game here with the Yanks the Indians close up training camp In 24 exhibition games—16 of them against major league opposition—the Tribe has broken even 12 and 12 and drawn only 79 010 fans The Yanks have attracted 188 592 customers in 23 games

Yesterday's defeat was charged to Steve Gromek who allowed only one infield scratch single in five innings to the 11th Cliff Mapes led off that frame with a bad-hop ground single Collins 320-foot looper over the right field came after Hank Bauer had forced Mapes at first

Cleveland's two runs ended Tom Morgan's string of scoreless innings at 22 The giant 20-year-old rookie righthander gave up only three hits and one walk in six innings and both runs against him were unearned They came in the fourth and sixth and tied the game at 2-2 for Morgan banged a second inning homer with a man aboard

Reds Roster Now 28, Meet Senators Today

LEESBURG Fla April 3 (AP)—With their roster trimmed down to 28 players the Cincinnati Reds rolled in here today for the first stop on their barnstorming trip home and a game with the Washington Senators

The Redlegs now are only three players over the limit they must reach by May 15 and apparently there will be few if any changes in the lineup from that which finished sixth last season

Among the newcomers those considered most likely to stick with the Reds are Shortstop Roy McMillan Outfielder Wally Post Catcher Les Peden and Pitchers Jim Blackburn and Ed Blake

The Redleg prospects have been brightened however by tighter pitching and the hitting of Ted Kluszewski Bobby Adams and Bob Scheffing Joe Adcock also has shown signs of coming out of his slump

Even Veteran Pitcher Ken Raffensberger expressed encouragement over the hitting

It looks like we're going to score lots more runs this season he said

OSU, Penn Will Renew Grid Relations In '53

PHILADELPHIA April 3 (INS)—Ohio State and the University of Pennsylvania will renew grid regulations in 1953

Francis P Murray Penn athletic director said the Red and Blue will battle the Buckeyes at Franklin Field Oct 17 1953 ending a lapse of 20 years

Penn and Ohio State met in football twice previously the Buckeyes capturing both games

In 1932 at Columbus Ohio State blanked Penn 19-0 and won again in 1933 by a score of 20-7

Marion's Playing Days With Cards Numbered; He May Not Start Season

By FRANK FCK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

ST PETERSBURG Fla It's easy to find Marty Marion when the Cardinals have an exhibition game at Al Lang Field and it's just as easy to talk to the new manager of the St Louis Cardinals

You can usually find him on the rubbing table with Dr Harrison J Weaver working on his cranky right knee

It blew up after a workout said the youngest manager in the major leagues

The swelling made the knee look like the round side of half a grapefruit and the observation here is that the only player-manager in the majors may not break into his own lineup on opening day The playing days of the 33-year-old Mr Shortstop of another era are numbered

I had two cartilages taken out in December offered Marion Guess my trouble came from constant wear and tear This is my 12th year

If you had been operated on in October instead of December said Doc I'd have you playing by now

I know Doc said Marion but what's the score now

You've got to promise me you'll take it easy and stay off that knee for a while said the Cardinal trainer as he turned to his manager It will take many massages like this And this green ointment will help It costs $4 80 a pound I knew a doctor who once used it His whole office smelled of the stuff

Hey Doc broke in Marion guess in the last 25 years I've given you the most trouble

Well said Doc Weaver there was a fellow named Johnny Mize I used to give him a good workout many a time Now you get out there and watch the game —on the bench '

His instructions over Doc Weaver turned around and took from a shelf a pair of his hands Before going any further It must be explained that they are Doc Weaver's hands cast in bronze

I've presented these to Marty as book ends for his St Louis home said the good doc That's my 1942 World Series ring It was the first World Series for Marty

The inscription reads

'To Martin W Marion from Harrison J Weaver in recognition of many glorious years of association '

It looks like a long association too Marty's knee the one bearing a pair of three-inch scars from a delicate operation will need plenty of attention

HOW MANAGER MARION SIZES HIS CARDINALS

Pitching—Team's Strong Point
Catching—No worries
Infield—Bit of a problem
Outfield—No righty power
Hitting—Needs more power
Finish—No predictions

Marty Marion manager of the St Louis Cards, has been called Mr Shortstop" for 11 years A knee injury may force him to become a bench manager instead of a playing manager Here he cavorts around the keystone sack

Wrestler Don Eagle Wed To Ohio State Girl

COLUMBUS O April 3 (AP) —Don Eagle the Indian wrestler known to thousands of television fans yesterday revealed his marriage to an Ohio State University journalism student

Don said he and 19-year-old Beth Isabel Hamilton of Columbus were married by a justice of the peace March 22 at his lodge at Island Pond Vt

The wrestler said we planned to keep it a secret and have a big wedding in Columbus for Beth's mother and father but the word got out

Beth said she will leave Ohio State She is a daughter of Mr and Mrs W A Hamilton

She said she met the 23 year-old grappler last Nov 1

They plan to return to Canada in a few days and then go to the lodge in Vermont Don Eagle has a match tentatively set for April 24 in Cleveland

Boston's Dropo Breaks Wrist, Out 2 Months

SARASOTA Fla April 3 (AP) First Baseman Walt Dropo suffered a broken right wrist Sunday and will be lost to the Boston Red Sox for at least two months X-rays showed today

Dr Harold T Lawlor who put the wrist in a cast at Sarasota Hospital said the slugger will be immobilized for a period of from four to six weeks

Dropo was hit on the wrist by a pitch from Ray Herbert during the seventh inning of the Sox's exhibition with Detroit which Boston won 8-1

Dropo 27-year-old slugger from Mossup Conn was voted the American League's rookie of the year last year Dropo batted 322 smashed 34 home runs and batted in 144 runs for the Sox in 1950

Ike Williams Faces Loss Of Welter Title

CHICAGO April 3 (AP)— The National Boxing Association began action today which may strip the world's lightweight boxing championship from Ike Williams for his failure to defend it

Williams has not risked his 135-pound crown since Dec 5 1949 when he outpointed Freddie Dawson of Chicago in 15 rounds at Philadelphia

Williams failed to abide by an NBA edict to sign for defense of his title by March 31 Dawson's manager Harry Rudolph asked that action be taken on the issue

Executive committeemen of the NBA are being polled today for a decision on declaring Williams title vacant The poll is being taken at the direction of Arch Hindman NBA president Hindman acted on a request from Fred Saddy of Milwaukee chairman of the NBA rating committee

'The decision is up to the 14 members of the executive committee—present officers and past presidents Hindman said at his Hagerstown (Ind) home It will take several days to complete the poll

In Washington D C Executive Secretary Col Harvey I Miller said Hindman had the legal right if he wished to unseat Williams by order instead of polling members

Miller said Williams knew such action was being contemplated and had consented that his title be vacated if he did not defend it at the specified date March 31

Indications are that Williams is ready to forfeit the 135-pound title and enter the current series to decide the recognized successor of Sugar Ray Robinson as 147-pound king

If the committee vacates the crown, Saddy said an elimination tournament probably would be held soon to pick a new lightweight king

That would include Freddie Dawson Del Flanagan Art Aragon and Pierre Montane of France he added

Another standout 135-pounder is John L Davis but he announced at Richmond Calif yesterday he was quitting the ring to save the sight of his right eye

Meanwhile Williams got in hot water with the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission John DaGrosa member of the board announced that Williams has been suspended because he failed to meet Tommy Campbell in a feature bout at the Philadelphia Arena last night

Williams is due in Chicago Thursday to begin training for his April 11 non title bout in Chicago Stadium with Pilzie Pruden Toronto (Canada) lightweight who has won 47 out of 57 fights 26 by knockouts

Use Of Banned Dump Scored

Council Complaints Disclose Reopening

Main Blvd residents are up in arms over the opening of a city refuse dump councilmen were told Monday night but Safety-Service Director Lawrence S Bloor replied the city has no other available site

Councilman George W Hiles reported complaints on use of the dump on Main Blvd which the city apparently has been using quietly since the County Health Board ordered closing of a disposal area on the Y & O Road several months ago

I've had several calls Mr Hiles said The people are up in arms and they figure on going to court to get an injunction that will stop the city

The Main Blvd dump was closed on a Health Board order about two years ago

Mr Bloor acknowledged that the city has been using the site The administration is seeking another disposal area but none has been located he added

I have thought that the city could buy an inexpensive piece of land and use a landfill to cover its rubbish Mr Bloor said We could recover our investment on the land

I advertised for a contract for hauling refuse outside the city, but got no bidders the director added If council has any helpful suggestions I would appreciate them I agree that the dump is a nuisance

5 New Homes Authorized During March

Permits For Month Total $46,050 For Gain Over February

New construction and remodeling estimated to cost $46,050 got under way in East Liverpool in March.

Building permits issued through Mayor Arnold W. Devon's office showed construction was up $6,750 from the $39,300 in work authorized in February.

March permits included five calling for new homes and three for remodeling of existing houses.

The permits call for a new church on Pleasant Heights and a $15,000 office and apartment building downtown.

The permits, the persons who obtained them, the work they authorize and the estimated cost of each job:

Mrs. Elmer Meredith, add two rooms to a home on Sophia St., $500;

Tri-State Gospel Temple, erect a church on Montana Ave., $8,000;

Eva Bryer, erect a one-story brick veneer residence in Fisher Park, $9,500;

Howard Parsons, erect a garage at West Second and Jackson Sts., $2,500;

Howard Parsons, build a 1½-story building on Jackson St. between West Second and Third Sts., $2,500;

James Locke Sr., erect a garage on Wyoming Ave., $450;

Harry Quinn, build a two-room house on Bridge St., $200;

Lee Cooper, to erect a utility room addition and do general remodeling on a house on North St., $500;

George Matheny, build a six-room brick home on Shady Lane Drive, Fisher Park, $10,000;

Howard Arb, build a concrete block garage on Pennsylvania Ave., $2,500;

Mrs. Carrie Merrill, erect a one-story concrete block garage on Dresden Ave., Ext., $400;

R. A. Burbick, erect a garage on Dresden Ave. with living quarters overhead, $3,500;

R. C. Smith, build a garage on Hill Blvd., $500;

Ralph DeLong, add two rooms to home on Belmar Ave., $1,000;

Otis Blankenship, build two-story office and apartment building on Walnut St. between East Fifth and Sixth Sts., $15,000;

E. L. Varian, erect one-story frame home on North Side Ave., $4,000;

Heights Association Honors 31 Athletes

Thirty-one members of the basketball, football and volleyball teams and cheerleaders were honored with a party Friday night by the Pleasant Heights Home and School Association. Some 40 persons attended.

Games and contests were diversions, followed by dancing. Contest winners were Betty Matheny, Karen McGaffic, Eddie Massey, Erla Campbell, Dick Little and Wilma Crable. Mrs. Helen Russell Haynes distributed prizes.

Gifts were presented by the basketball team to the coach, Ray Yanni, and by the volleyball team to Mrs. Eva Pittenger. Mrs. Everett Beaver was chairman of the committee of mothers who served lunch.

Music Program Set For Garfield Meeting

Members of the Garfield Parent-Teacher League will hear an instrumental program, under the direction of Ralph Johnson, elementary music supervisor, at their meeting tonight at 7:45.

Plans will be completed for a carnival April 13 during the business. The nominating committee will announce the slate of officers for the coming year. Rev. Charles Smith, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church, will conduct devotions. Refreshments will be served by the third grade homeroom mothers.

Group To Hear Safety, Compensation Talks

LISBON, April 3 (Special) — Farm safety and workmen's compensation will be discussed at a county-wide meeting for farmers Tuesday, April 17, at 8 p. m. in Lisbon High School, it was announcel by Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

W. E. Stuckey of Ohio State University will talk on safety on the farm and in the home. Floyd Badgley of the Ohio Industrial Commission will discuss workmen's compensation as it applies to farmers.

Palestine Minstrel Show To Open Tonight

EAST PALESTINE, April 3 (Special)—The city's 13th annual benefit minstrel opened Monday in the High School Auditorium and will be repeated tonight at 8.

Presented by the East Palestine Minstrel Association, this year's show is dedicated to Miss Thelma Herbert, who produced the last 12 shows. She is a patient at the Tuscarawas Valley Sanatorium at New Philadelphia.

Charges By Hospital Freed From Controls

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP) —The government today removed from price control the fees and other charges made for services by hospitals and educational institutions.

Price Director Michael V. DiSalle exempted the hospital charges for a period of six months, starting April 9. He said the Office of Price Stabilization will make a continuing study of hospital costs to determine whether any increase in charges made during that period is justified.

In exempting educational institutions from the general price freeze, he said rates charged by private schools have little direct effect upon the cost of living.

Scout Council To Hold Annual Dinner April 16

The annual fellowship dinner of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council will be held April 16 at the American Legion Post 4 Memorial Home, John Hartwell, county scout executive, announced today.

About 200 are expected to hear Elmer H. Bakken, national director of rural scouting, as principal speaker.

Highlight will be the presentation of the Silver Beaver award, highest in scouting. Veteran and council awards also will be made.

Reservations must be made at the Boy Scout office, 115½ West Lincoln Way, Lisbon, by April 13. No more than 210 will be accepted.

Soldier Brothers Killed Same Time, Same Place

WASHINGTON, April 3 (AP) —Two soldier brothers have been killed on the same day and apparently in the same action in Korea.

The Army said yesterday Melvin and John Barnett of Batesville, Ark, were killed in action March 16.

There were no details in the initial report received here, but the fact that both boys were in the same regiment of the First Cavalry Division indicated they died in the same engagement.

Army spokesmen here said they believe this is the first such instance in the Korean war. The Army has no general policy against brothers serving in the same outfit.

John was 21, his brother 20.

Council Group To Study Curb Meter Change

Legislation Ordered On Stop Streets That Already Have Signs

Suggested changes in traffic regulations, including a re-location of parking meters, were referred to City Council's Streets Committee Monday night.

The committee was asked to study a recommendation from Police Chief L. J. Wise that calls for:

▶Removal of parking meters from the east side of Walnut St. between East Fifth and Sixth Sts. because of heavy bus traffic near the terminal;

▶Removal of meters from the east side of the Diamond between Diamond Alley and Fifth St. to permit a third lane that would help traffic turning off Fifth St. onto the Diamond, and ▶Metering of both sides of Walnut St. between East Fifth and Fourth Sts., both sides of West Fifth St. between Jackson and Jefferson Sts., and Jackson St. from West Fifth to West Fourth.

The chief also suggested a change in the traffic light at East Fifth and Walnut Sts. that would permit a manual control inside the terminal to stop traffic each 15-minute interval when busses are leaving the terminal.

At present, a nautomatic timer holds traffic all four ways at frequent intervals when no busses are departing.

Chief Wise sent his recommendations in a letter.

Legislation also was ordered to designate as "stop" streets many intersections where stop signs have been erected, unsupported by legislation.

"A lot of those signs have just been stuck up and there is no way to enforce a penalty for violation," Solicitor John B. McDonald told council.

Reporting for the Streets Committee, Councilman Harry Wilson said it recommends installation of stop signs on Bank St. at Avondale St., on Minerva St. at Avondale, on Avondale at Bradshaw, and on Ravine St. at Bradshaw.

The traffic measures were part of a big budget of minor business.

Equipment Concern Buys East End Building

The Economy Equipment Co., which has been operating here since 1942, using quarters in the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co. plant, has bought the building and equipment of the Potters Mining & Milling Co. in East End.

The Economy firm, headed by Howard Crossley, will change locations after renovations have been completed at the Potters Mining building.

The company rebuilds processing machinery, serving mainly potteries, paint plants and chemical works. It has representatives in Cleveland and Pittsburgh, and employs about 10 people.

Potters Mining, established more than 70 years ago, has been headed by Attorney William H. Vodrey Jr. as president, M. W. Thompson as vice-president, and H. Russell Smith as secretary-treasurer.

23 4-H Clubs To Get Recognition Awards

LISBON, April 3 (Special) — Twenty-three 4-H Clubs rated as "Honor Clubs" for last year's work will receive recognition awards Saturday night at the Columbiana County 4-H Rally in Lisbon High School.

The program at 8 will include a talk on "4-H Citizenship" by Representative Clarence Wetzel, a playlet by the girls of the Winona Jolly Bunch Club and recreation led by Vince Andrulis.

Lausche's Move To Erase Bingo Falls On Deaf Ears

COLUMBUS, April 3 (AP) — Governor Frank J. Lausche struck a blow at bingo—even for charity—yesterday, but no one can be found in the General Assembly who appears to be ready to strike the next.

The governor said he "speedily would approve" any bill to ban lottery games in Ohio, but leaders of the Republican majority and the Democratic minority alike disclaimed knowledge of any plan to implement the Lausche challenge.

A poll of the seven--member Senate Democratic minority showed only Senator Charles Carney (D) of Youngstown with any definite feeling on the matter.

And Mr. Carney's feeling is at cross purposes with Mr. Lausche's. Mr. Carney said he is ready, if the bingo situation in the state doesn't settle down, to introduce a bill to legalize bingo where it is conducted by a bona fide religious or fraternal organization by its own members and on its own premises.

Mr. Carney's view was in partial answer to Mr. Lausche's stand —that bingo for charity has been "used as a shield, in many instances, against criminal action". That certain persons and organizations claim charitable intentions "when in truth the major portion of the income is dissipated for expenses and a negligible, insignificant token amount is given to charity".

Aside from Mr. Carney's "off-the-cuff" observation, legislative leaders greeted with silence the governor's open, if informal, request to the legislature to heal the gambling breach created by a modification of the state's gambling laws in 1943.

LOST and FOUND

LOST: 29 pounds.
WHERE: Cleveland, Ohio.
WHO: Mrs. M. Abate, 1942 E. 70th St.
HOW: With RENNEL
WHEN: During four weeks.
FOUND: A way to reduce without starvation diet or exercise.
AND: Here is Mrs. Abate's own statement: "My husband and I have used Rennel Concentrate for the past month, and we both find it is wonderful. In this time I have lost 29 lbs. and my husband has lost 25 lbs." NOTE: It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid Rennel at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel. Insist on genuine Rennel.

PTA Elects At Klondyke

Charles Straight Kept In Presidency

The Klondyke Home & School Association elected Charles Straight to his third term as its president at a meeting Monday night at the school.

Serving with him will be Mrs. Jessie Roszler, first vice-president; Mrs. Margaret Radeschi, second vice-president; Mrs. Ben Springer, secretary, and James Coffman, treasurer.

Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham was elected delegate to the P.T.A. Federation, with Mrs. Norma Windle as alternate.

During a brief business session, plans were discussed for the association's annual carnival on April 20, and pins were given to the members of the girls' volleyball teams from Klondyke playground, which won the playground championship last summer. The pins were donated by the Tri-State Basketball Tournament committee.

The entertainment program included a piano solo by Donald Beatty, selections by a girls' trio consisting of Mary Manfredi, Shirley Yost and Donna Tressler, accompanied by Joan Lane, and a tap dance by Janet Kay Clutter.

The attendance banner was won by the third and fourth grades, taught by Mrs. Georgia Stauffer, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Ben Springer, Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham and Mrs. Anthony Leon.
